

In the Vortex of Europe's
Maelstrom of Strife

German prisoners, captured in the Anglo-French drive, marching through Southampton.

Photo by Janet M. Cunningham

Italian Red Cross succoring the wounded under Austrian fire.

© International News Service

What is left of the Cathedral of Rheims. A desperate German onslaught on the city has again been repulsed.

Photo by Paul Thompson

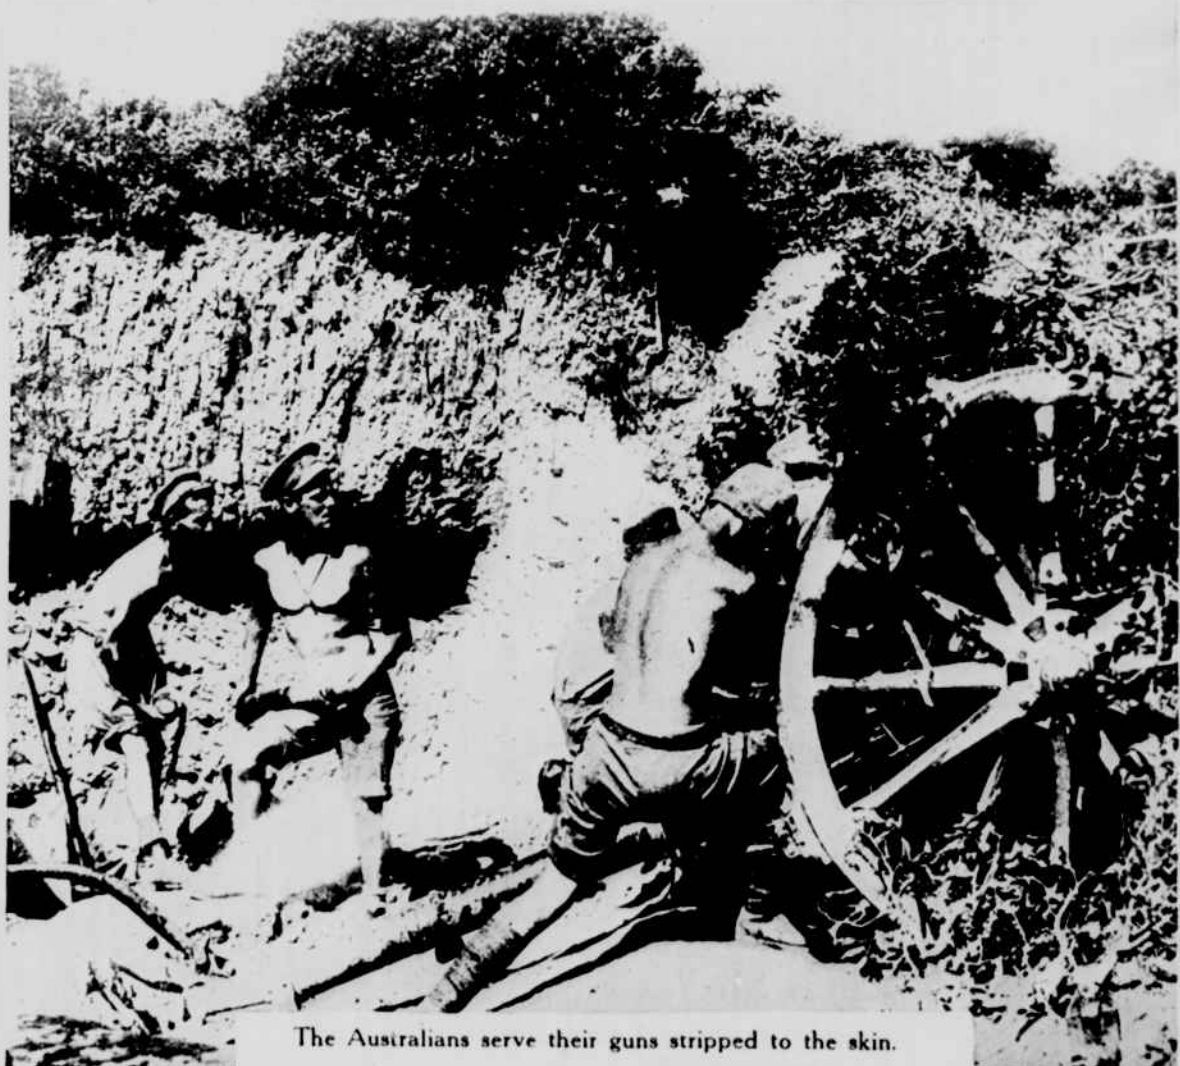

Lloyd George and Albert Thomas, Ministers of Munitions, who are feeding the guns of the English and French.

Photo from Janet M. Cunningham

Bulgarian troops leaving Sofia to close the trap on Serbia's defenders.

Photo by Paul Thompson

The Australians serve their guns stripped to the skin.

Modern Photo Service